

UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plan service area reductions for 2022

Frequently asked questions

Overview

Each year, we evaluate the locations of our UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plan offerings and decide if we need to make changes to the plans. For 2022, UnitedHealthcare is reducing some service areas and terminating some plans. The following information answers questions about these changes and can help you answer questions for your UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plan member patients.

Frequently asked questions

What does UnitedHealthcare mean by “service area reductions” and “plan terminations?”

A service area reduction means the removal of 1 or more counties from a service area for a specific UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage contract for the upcoming year. It can also mean a situation where a service area is removed from a particular plan. One or more counties on the plan would remain active.

A plan termination means a specific UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage benefit plan in a given county, market, state or region for the upcoming contract year is discontinued from the contract. Other benefit plans under the contract may still remain active.

What’s happening with UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plans in 2022?

Effective Jan. 1, 2022, we’ll reduce some UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plan service areas and discontinue some plans. These changes affect only a small portion of the overall UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage membership. Your patients who are affected by either of these scenarios will need to choose another plan or return to Original Medicare.

How many UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage members are affected by service area reductions or plan terminations?

These changes impact a small percentage of our overall Medicare Advantage membership.

How will UnitedHealthcare notify members about the changes?

We'll send non-renewal notices to affected members dated Oct. 2, 2021, informing them that their plan won't be offered in their county for the coming year. Depending on the market, we may offer other plans in the service area. Some UnitedHealthcare plan options may be limited in 2022.

The non-renewal notice will include information regarding the special election period for member eligibility for 2022 benefit coverage. It will also include information about options available to the member, including other Medicare Advantage plans, Medicare Supplement insurance coverage and/or Medicare Part D coverage, as applicable.

We may also conduct additional outreach to members who are affected to notify them of their choices if another UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plan option is available in their service area.

These FAQs are intended as a courtesy notice regarding UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage service area reductions for 2022. If your patients who are UnitedHealthcare members have questions, please direct them to the Customer Service number on their member ID card.

If I'm affected by these changes, when will I be notified of the specific changes?

After Oct. 2, we'll contact network care providers and facilities with more details if they're affected by these changes. We have an obligation to notify our impacted members first. They will be notified with a required non-renewal notice, dated Oct. 2, 2021, informing them that their plan won't be offered in their county for the coming year. Until that date, we are unable to disclose to affected network care providers the specific locations where service area reductions will occur.

Your Participation Agreement

If I'm a participating care provider with UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plans, will these changes affect my Participation Agreement?

Because we continue to offer network-based UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plans, your Participation Agreement will still be applicable even with the limited number of service area reductions and plan terminations being made by us at this time.

Resources for your patients

If one of my patients doesn't enroll in a new UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plan for 2022, what will happen and what should they do?

If an affected member hasn't enrolled in a new UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage plan by Dec. 31, 2021, their coverage with UnitedHealthcare will end effective Jan. 1, 2022. Depending on what action the member has taken, they may be enrolled in a different organization's Medicare Advantage plan or be returned to Original Medicare on Jan. 1, 2022.

If an affected member's previous plan included prescription drug coverage, they may also lose Part D benefits in 2022. Whether the member has Part D benefits in 2022 is dependent on the health plan coverage that the member elects. Those members who haven't selected a new Medicare Advantage plan will still have a special election period and may elect to enroll in another Medicare Advantage option until Feb. 28, 2022.

We'll send non-renewal notices to affected members, dated Oct. 2, 2021, informing them that their plan won't be offered in their county for the coming year. After Oct. 2, please encourage your patient to read the UnitedHealthcare non-renewal notice materials for their special election period eligibility and information on other options available in 2022 in their service area. For additional help, including selecting a new plan, members may reach out to UnitedHealthcare using the Customer Service number included in the non-renewal notice.

Where can UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage members get more information on or after Oct. 2, 2021?

Members are encouraged to call the Customer Service number located on their member ID card and in the non-renewal notice for questions about their existing plan or assistance enrolling into a new UnitedHealthcare plan. Our Customer Service agents are available and trained to help these members. Members can also go to medicare.gov for information about health plan availability.
