Medical Benefit Clinical Program Drug List - Definitions

Clinical & Utilization Management Strategy	Definition
Drug Policy	Drug Policies provide information on proven uses for medications, based on FDA approved indications and published, peer-reviewed medical literature. Physicians may request coverage reviews and determination based upon our Drug Policies and other clinical evidence.
Prior Authorization	The process of determining benefit coverage based on medical necessity criteria, for services, tests or procedures that are appropriate and cost-effective for the individual member. It is a member-centric review, that is obtained prior to services being rendered to evaluate the clinical appropriateness of requested services in terms of the type, frequency, extent and duration.
Medical Necessity / Notification	Medical Necessity is about clinical effectiveness and consists of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clinical appropriateness: The type, frequency, extent and duration of services must be appropriate for the individual member. UnitedHealthcare's clinical review staff leverage various evidence-based industry recognized resources and guidelines, such as MCG (formerly Milliman Care Guidelines®). • Clinical effectiveness: Treatment of illness, injury, disease or symptom must be proven to be clinically effective. • Cost effectiveness: Services must not be more costly than alternative services that are at least as likely to produce equivalent therapeutic and diagnostic results. Notification: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Determination based on proven uses for medications, FDA approved indications, and published peer-reviewed medical literature.
Step Therapy	Provide coverage for the use of less expensive, but similarly effective medications. Step therapy requires members to try a lower-cost medication (known as step 1) before progressing to a higher-cost alternative (known as step 2).
Site of Care	Redirection using clinical evidence and medical necessity criteria to an alternative site of care so members receive the most effective and convenient care possible while lowering costs. The process: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Direct providers to the most appropriate site of care using clinical evidence and medical necessity criteria. • Provide a short-term grace period to prevent disruption of treatment while the care is transitioned to the alternative site of care. • Coordinate transitioning the member to a new site of care.
Medication Sourcing	Network providers required to source certain specialty medications through contracted specialty pharmacies.
